SOUTH CHAMPIONS

OUTLOOK 1970

The University of Maryland's soccer team will be shooting for the national championship which they narrowly missed one year ago. The returnees and the newcomers appear to give the Terrapins a chance to gain that title.

Maryland teams have established the best record in major college soccer over the past two years, going undefeated in 1968 with a 14-0-1 record and ending last season in third place nationally with a mark of 11-2-2. They will be trying to extend that record while fighting for the national title as well.

Another of the foremost goals of the team will be to regain the Atlantic Coast Conference crown which they lost last season for the first time in seventeen years. Maryland hopes to win that laurel on the way to a berth in the 1970 NCAA tournament to be held at Southern Illinois University, at Edwardsville, Illinois in December. They are also hoping for their 200th win in this their 25th year of intercollegiate soccer competition.

The offense will be strong with three starters returning including 1969's high scorer Rasim Tugberk (19 goals). Coming back to play alongside Tugberk are 1969 regulars Pete Milhado and Nick Skirka. Sefa Ocak and Manuel Romero raise the number of lettermen on offense to five. These two were reserves a year ago but figure to see a good deal of action this year.

On defense three starters return also, including goalie Frank Kolodziey who proved to be one of the outstanding goalies in college soccer during his first season in College Park. Halfback Melih Sensoy and fullback Bill Walker return after two seasons each in a starting role.

The defense will be laden with lettermen as five others return for 1970. Backs Mike Katynsky, Jim Solarski, Alex Nacinovich and Joe Kalivoda will all be putting in their second seasons for the red and white. This fall is Steve Salfeety's fourth season for the Terrapins.

Gone from the team that finished third in the nation last year are two outstanding players who filled key positions. All-American inside right Rocco Morelli and defensive standout Karl Ashlock will be difficult to replace. Morelli finished second in goals (14) and first in assists (10) in 1969. Ashlock and Morelli were two of the main reasons that the team inflicted more shutouts on opponents in 1969 than had any previous Maryland team.

Despite the large number of returnees the lineup can not be determined until the season opens for there will be strong competition at all positions among lettermen and newcomers. Adjustments will be made and the starters for the first game will not be known until just prior to the opening of the season.

The defense will be strong and the offense will be potent due to the large number of returning starters and lettermen with experience. A few key positions must be filled where graduation thinned the ranks. But, if history is any indication, Maryland will open the new decade with a powerful team for 1970.

COACH ROYAL

Doyle Royal

DOYLE ROYAL is entering his 25th season as head soccer coach at the University of Maryland. He started soccer on a varsity level in 1946 after returning from the war. Since that time he has compiled a record of 190 wins, 41 defeats, and 14 ties, a truly remarkable feat.

He was graduated from Roosevelt HS in Washington, D.C. and came to College Park as an undergraduate in 1939 with aid to play tennis. That same year he was on the Junior Davis Cup Team. At Roosevelt he won letters in four sports and captained the basketball and tennis teams. He won three tennis letters and one soccer monogram at Maryland.

He began playing soccer while in the fourth grade and by age 15 was playing in the Washington Unlimited Soccer League. He was the youngest ever to play in that league. Royal continued to play amateur unlimited ball until 1941 when he played inside right on the Maryland team which went undefeated. He got his diploma in 1942 and went off to war.

During the war he took part in the invasion of France, earned a silver star for valor, a Purple Heart, and three campaign ribbons. He retired from the Army Reserve following the summer of 1968 as a Lt. Colonel.

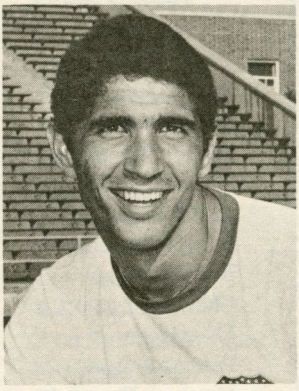
MARYLAND'S 1969 ALL-AMERICAN OFFENSE

Rasim Tugberk



Rocco Morelli

In 1969 Rasim Tugberk and Rocco Morelli formed what Coach Doyle Royal, with good reason, called "the greatest scoring combination ever to play for Maryland." Rocco led the 1968 team in scoring with 20 goals and Rasim netted 19 to lead the 1969 scorers.

Tugberk was the Terrapin's high scorer in eight of the fifteen games played last fall. Against Clemson in the first home game of the season he pounded the nets for four goals, the season high for a Maryland player in a single game. The transfer student from Istanbul scored four times in the 1969 NCAA tournament, twice each against Virginia and South Florida. He was listed at the top of the all-star ratings last year as a junior. Rasim made the All-Atlantic Coast Conference, All-South, and All-America first teams for his outstanding play. Maryland is fortunate to have him in the red and white for 1970.

Morelli was one of the most valuable members of the offensive arm of the 1968 national championship team. He led the team in scoring, sending goals flying into the nets from all directions, racking up 20 for the season. He set the record for the most goals scored in an NCAA tournament game by one player when he scored all of Maryland's goals in a 4-3 win over San Jose State in a semifinal game held in Atlanta, Georgia two years ago. Counting his only shot of the Hartwick game and the four goals in the semifinals, Morelli scored five goals on five consecutive shots, an NCAA mark that may never be equaled. Rocco earned berths on the All-Atlantic Coast Conference and All-South first teams and was a Junior College All-American at Staten Island Community College before he was accorded All-America second team honors following his final brilliant season in College Park.

1969 IN REVIEW

Maryland's 1969 soccer season was one of the finest in its glorious history. Maryland finished third in the nation, won the first Southern Regional championship ever held, won an Eastern inter-regional playoff, and finished the year with the best overall record in major college soccer over the past two seasons.

They established a school record with their eighteenth consecutive regular season win and recorded their eighty-second shutout while whitewashing eight opponents, another new standard. The defense allowed a total of ten goals, an average of one or less per game for the eighth time in the last fourteen years. The Royalmen extended their own statistics by finishing in the "Top Ten" for the tenth time in the past twelve years.

Maryland reached the NCAA semifinals for the fifth time in the eleven years of the tourament, raising their record to 12-8-1. Two more Maryland players were added to the list of All-Americans raising it to 39 Marylanders who have earned 51 nominations.

Maryland opened the season with five consecutive wins before Navy fired home a late penalty kick to gain a 1-1 tie, ending the winning streak at eighteen. Virginia pulled a small coup gaining a 2-2 tie despite Rocco Morelli's two early goals and an almost unbelievable barrage near the end of the game by the Terrapins.

Maryland entered the 1969 NCAA tournament seeded first from the South and avenged their earlier tie with the Cavaliers in the opening round of the tourney with a convincing 5-0 win in College Park. That game marked the seventh time that the Terrapins had held their opponent scoreless during the year. Maryland hosted South Florida for the first Southern Region Championship game and won again, 4-1.

The University of Pennsylvania was the next obstacle in the path of the Terrapins in their drive to find the way to San Jose and the NCAA finals. The game was not decided until Rocco Morelli took a pass from Melih Sensoy and kicked the ball past Penn goalie Alex Spector with 3:47 elapsed in the fourth overtime period.

Maryland flew to the national finals to play the University of San Francisco under the lights at San Jose State College in California. Maryland was the only team of the four that took the field for the 1968 finals held in Atlanta, Georgia to appear in San Jose for the 1969 classic.

The Dons scored a first quarter goal off of the foot of Ted Psaras after 20:32 of play. Despite a spirited attack near the end of the game, the Terrapins could not find the net. Maryland had played their last 43 games with at least one goal in each game. They had not been shutout since Army turned the trick in 1966. Maryland and Harvard both fell in the semifinal round of the annual soccer classic to finish the year tied for third place nationally.
